but these last few days the P.O.W. trips have been on, also they are taking ground staff days on a few of German bomb damage, about a six hour trip. am sorry to hear about the Toby Jug. we seem out of luck at the moment, I'm waiting to hear about the hypsicle effort, hope that's O.K, if you do hear of any other places to stay you might make a note of them as they may come in useful, regarding your remarks on Burnt Stub, well I'll deal with you

Was quite surprised yesterday to receive a letter from Jack Basso, he's still in England, at an airfield in Hampshire not far from Bournemouth where his wife and daughter is living, can tell you some people are very lucky.

Well darling there's not much more to write about, hope Mother & Dad are both O.K. by the way any development on
