Wed.

My Dear Moll,

Thank you ever so much Moll for the smokes. I got it actually on my birthday.
You gauged it well. Yes, this is my first birthday away from home. Not quite the same is it? You want me to tell you what I should like; geez that sounds good, but Moll things, are expensive just now.
I should love something to keep my shaving kit together, and of these cases, if you know what I mean, or again, something to keep my writing material together in the same line. I was just going to say a gramophone but it sounds silly. Well I'm 19 today, not much when you come to think of it is it? I'm afraid I am going to celebrate tomorrow night by going to the cinema to see the BSO Symphony Orchestra also on Sunday night too, that was to be an entertainment this week but it's worth it. Sir Adrian Boult is here too and Alma Lohr. I don't suppose you listen to the wireless much but it is being broadcast each night. Tonight during the interval (we listened to it on the wireless in the hut) there was a short talk which ended something like this. "So during the next recital just picture thirteen hundred people of the R.F.F. sitting in silence, carried away from the bondage and grind of service life to another realm." "This, in the heart of South Wales." Of course there was yells of approval about the grind part of it. The orchestra is here for a week by the way.

Bernard Sayer didn't last long did he?, Jolly tough on his people isn't it.

I don't really think I had better have any more books to read because I've got to spend all my time gunning, and it will make my kit so heavy too. I am gunning up hard to see if I can get a commission.

Of course people would start thinking that I've got hooked up if we started putting up beaders, and that just isn't the case, you know me better than that. I shall get into a horrid mess if I don't look out because Reggy is going to try and organize a level with me, have no I shall have to keep the exact notes from her. Don't lose interest with the paper, you'll soon get 39 !. I'm so glad you've got projects of some wedge pieces, I like them very much. Well, well, must shut up now, thanks again for the smokes, I did appreciate them so.

lots & lots of Love
