Dear Mum,

Jues 22/8/44.

Been on our new station for a day after spending a weeks leave in Edinburgh at the completion of Conversion Course. Enjoyed my leave very much & had lots of fun! It is a very nice City & plenty of entertainment. The rest of the crew went to London, but adding up the fact that it was only 2 months since I'd had a week there and the possibility of flying bombs I decided on Scotland & was glad of it.

I was rather unfortunate towards the end of my stay however I am in no end of trouble because of it. My wallet & fountain pen were stolen the day before I left while I was having a bath. I lost no money but my identity card, army discharge & several other papers. Then on the way back on the train while having dinner at Newcastle someone took my bag with everything I had taken on leave. Lost my camera, torch, Flying Log Book, Pay Book, shirt, collar, undergar, socks, shaving gear, comb board, case itself & other small items not worth worrying much about. I've written to Alice & staying master but doubt very much if I'll get much back. Had luck really as it'll cost about £2 to replace the stuff lost on issue without my own gear. Got Beagle's latest sea mail etc. So long for now all at home but xxx
