Dear Bruce,

Had you seen mail letter OK a few days ago. Thanks if very much. Thought it was a letter from myself at first. Your writing has become very similar to my own. You've certainly been doing the kangas over smartly. Are they for your own personal benefit or more of the goo-skin vests for soldiers campaign etc? Wouldn't mind being with you for a couple, must be great fun. I can see we have a second Brodwin coming up with these scores you've been knocking up at cricket. Too bad you retired so often without laying a go for some centuries. When the war's over & longer matches are possible I guess they'll be coming along quick smart. I'll be there to urge you on - look at it in Birriva style.

Our crew has finally got to an operational station & after a few trips round the countryside to bust up on our training we did a trip over to France to-day. Our first & luckily for us quite an easy trip & safe as a house. From now on we'll be gradually mounting up our score I hope. Till we finish a tour or the war ends or something. The end doesn't look far off now does it. I'd hate to be in old ferry's boots right now. So long for now, Meggs.
Love to all at home. Best xxxxx
