My darling Jean,

Thanks so much for your two letters, the last one of which arrived today.

Am so glad to hear that Eastwoods have decided to retain the services of their experienced and highly trained?? comptometer operator at least until she has another day off. Sincerely darling

I thoroughly enjoyed that day, it made such a nice change, even if I did have to walk nearly to Tisbury to see you!
 You must know how much I love you to get up early, shall soon have news enough to face your rolling pins.

As Jack is fit we are flying again, went out last night and shall probably be on again tonight the weather wasn't too bad, but was a bit thick coming back.

Here's a little bit of news, probably won't interest you - much, our leave is provisionally fixed for the week beginning 21st January, so perhaps you can make a few direct remarks or have an attack of something or other, it shouldn't be altered but you know how things are, was rather surprised it was so soon but I didn't say so.

The weather has turned a little milder today but its raining and rather miserable, still I'm on the warm writing to my 'little gal' so I'm quite happy, would be more pleased still if you were here or I was at home, anyway I'm not grumbling, I really get my full share of love.
By the way, in your last Tuesday's letter you were wondering where I was, well I hate to disappoint your vision of me on a cold station waiting for the local train - I was in camp in the bar drinking a nice pint of bitter, that rather destroyed the illusion hasn't it?

Well, darling not much more news, by the way don't forget to order the moon for our next leave then I can get the lowdown on this moon on your hair angle

Sherris for now, cheerest, look after yourself, write soon, all my love Jack
